occurred between the zemstvos and some of the governors. In Harkov, Prince Obolensky, who was fired upon not long ago for having some riotous peasants flogged, addressed the provin-cial zemstvos in what the delegates regarded as studiedly insulting terms. A committee of 20 was formed to report on his address. Sixteen members signed report recommending a protest to the senate, the highest court in the country, and it was almost unanimously adopted. Prince Obolensky tried to this vote reversed, and, it is stated, packed the meeting room with police, but the delegates were not to be intimidated and maintained their decision.

HUSBAND WAS KILLED. By Man Whom He Found in His Wife's Room.

New York, March 30 .- Filled with jealous anger at finding another man being entertained by his wife this afternoon, William J. Peppler of East One Hundred Nineteenth street threw the visitor out into the hall, fought him from the third floor to the front door of the apartment house in which he lived, with the wife screaming and weeping at their heels and was then shot dead by the man he thought had wronged him. This man was William Dobson, a cashier in a stock broker's office. Peppler was about 28 years of age and a cler. He had not been marage and a cier. He had not been mar-ried long. Keppler had been shot in the side, the bullet passing clear

After having revived, Mrs. Peppler said she and Dobson were together when her husband returned unexpectedly from work, and a fight followed, resulting in Dobson being thrown out of the room and pursued down stairs by her husband. In the lower hall Dobson fired one shot. After that the woman remembered nothing more.

Dobson was arrested tonight in the apartments of friends. He took his arrest very calmly and refused to make any statement. At the police station he said he had a wife and two children in Washington, D. C. He was locked

EMIGRATION TO CANADA.

It is Absorbing England's Surplus Population.

New York, March 31,-Canada rather than South Africa is absorbing the surplus population of Great Britain, cables the London correspondent of the Tribune. The reports sent home from South Africa by the British army of 250,000 men during the war, were unfavorable and the immigration movement from England to South Africa has Dt set in. The resources of Canada, meanwhile, have been advertised systematically and full use has been of the American invasion, both as an incentive and a warning. The second contingent of Mr. Barr's force of British emigrants leaving Liverpool today, number 1,800, and before the winter at least 10,000 will be transplanted from the midland and northern counties to the Saskatchewan valley. Canadian officials assert that the settlers are a picked body of emigrants, representing the arts and crafts as well as agricul-ture, and taking with them a large mass of capital.

Countess D'Onigo Murdered.

New York, March 31.-Countess D'-Origo, a miscrly recluse, was murdered several weeks ago in her house near Treniso, says a dispatch from Rome to the American. The murderer, now a prisoner, has confessed the crime, de laring it was committed in a frenzy of rage at the countess because of her re fusal to give him a meal or money for his starving children.

The police found in the bedroom of the countess bank notes aggregating the countess pank hotes aggregate the million dellars.

Five hundred 1,000-lire ($200) notes had been partly eaten by rats. The total value of the woman's estate is estimated at $4,000,000.

PAVING GOES OVER ONE WEEK

Matter of New Telephone Company Referred to Special Committee.

THE LACK OF SANITATION.

Amendments to Fender Ordinance-Current Street Changed to Second North-A New Fireman.

At the meeting of the city council last night the reoprt of the committee on streets, recommending that the petition of property owners for the paving of South Temple street from State street to Tenth East be granted, and recommending that the city recorder be to make the improvement, was laid over for one week upon motion of s, seconded by Sharp. Such action was taken because the point was raised by Fernstrom that the city could not enter into a contract to pave the street and pay for the same on the installment plan as proposed. Fernstrom argued that three city attorneys prior to the present one had rendered opinions to the effect that the city could not enter into a contract for paving which would tie up future administrations, notwithstanding City Attorney Nye's opinion to the contrary. The latter, however, still contends that the contract would be perfectly legal. The mat. ter was laid over, however, until next week. In the meantime the residents are wondering whether or not the street will be paved.

TELEPHONE FRANCHISE.

Mayor Thompson called the council's attention to the fact that the Utah Telephone company, to which the council on last Monday night transferred the franchise of the Utah Home Telephone company, had changed its name to the Utah Independent Telephone company and that nothing has been done by the company to bring the matter officially before the council. The matter was re-ferred to a special committee of five, together with President Cottrell and City Attorney Nye, for an investiga-

CHANGE OF GRADE

The Fritsch Investment company and East Temple street, representing a total frontage of 1,064 1/2 feet, petitioned the council to re-open the matter of a change of grade on East Temple street from First North to Currant street and that they be given an opportunity to be heard in the matter. The petition was referred to the committee on streets.

JANITOR'S REQUEST.

The janitor requested that a new car-pet be purchased for the council cham-ber at once. President Cottrell made an attempt to refer the matter to the finance committee alone, but Daveler asked that the committee on control be associated and remarked that he was tired of this "one-man power" and made the further objection that it was impossible to get a meeting of the finance committee. The matter was referred to both committees.

CITY CLEANING CRUSADE.

City Health Commissioner King undoubtedly intends to begin another cru sade against the unsanitary condition of the city and have another spring and summer cleaning similar to the one of last year, and to that end asked the council for authority to employ two additional sanitary inspectors for a period of 60 days. The matter was referred to the committees on finance and sanitary for consideration.

THE BIRTH RECORD.

The ordinance, requiring physicians and midwives to report all births to the board of health within five days from the occurrence of the same, under penalty of a fine of from $5 to $100 or imprisonment in the city jail for a period not to exceed 90 days or by both such fine and imprisonment, was passed by the unanimous vote of the council.

FENDER ORDINANCE.

The committee on streets submitted an ordinance amending the fender or-dinance so as to extend the time in which the street car company may equip its cars with fenders un-til June 1 instead of April 1. The ordinance was passed unanimously.

STREET NAME CHANGED. Fernstrom introduced an ordinance changing the name of Currant street to Second North street. The ordinance was passed under a suspension of the REFORM MOVEMENT. Talk About Commercial Street Being

Ann Arbor, and the Boston Festival or-chestra: and Alfred Williams, basso, Purged of Its Dizzy Denizens.

There is another move on deck to purge Commercial street of its unsavory and dizzy denizens and make of it a respectable thoroughfare. The owners of property on that street are getting together, with a view to agreeing to refuse further rental or lease for gambling or immoral purposes as soon as present leases run out, which will be n about one year. Immoral tenants variably prompt in paying, but the owners are ready to receive less returns and have the street made a respectable use of. Impetus is lent to this movement by the new Wilson House which fronts directly opposite of grievous offense

Commercial street, and as this is to be a firstclass hotel the proximity to such an unrighteous locality is a source of apprehension and annoyance to landlord. It is believed that with the tough women, gambiers and whisky sellers run out of the street, it would be speedily occupied by marketmen and business houses, and transformed into a decent thoroughfare. Where the alto-gether levely trie of interests would go is something of a problem. The city of New Haven solved the difficulty in that municipality long ago, by forcing the female sporting houses over the line into the adjoining town of Hamden, and it has been suggested here that a location of such resorts be made southwest of the city, where they may be kept away from public view. ent the presence of houses of ill fame school children almost rub up agains

Several varieties of rhubarb are culti vated, but only the common garden va-riety known as pie-plant, wine-plant or monk-rhubarb is used in cookery. The plant is particularly valued because of its early appearance in the spring, long before any native fruits appear in the northern latitudes. The fleshy leaf-stalks, stewed and sweetened, make a good substitute for fruit, wholesome and to most tastes very agreeable. Rhubarb holds a unique place among vegetables, as it has little in common with them except in the manner of growth and the acid flavor which closely resembles that of sorrel and is prin-cipally oxalic acid. Stewing with sugar dissipates this to a great extent, but there are many who find it objectionable on account of its peculiar acidity.

Those who have any tendency to acidity of the stomach should avoid rhubart and there are other tendencies which are greatly aggravated by its use. Rhubarb will very readily take the flavor of other fruits and is often used to advantage at this season of the year by mixing with apples, fresh or dried, prunes, figs, dates, etc. Stewed Hhubarb.

Select two bunches of tender young stalks; wash thoroughly and cut into small pieces; put in a porcelain-lined or agate saucepan with half a cup of water and simmer until soft; sweeten to taste and cook until sugar has dissolved and sauce is clear; then set aside to cool. Steamed Rhubarh.

Wash the rhubarb and remove the der. Cut the stalks into two inch lengths and put them into a double-boiler; stew sugar over it in proportion of one cup of sugar to one pint of fruit, and cook until tender. Do not stir while cooking. When the students is seen the stalkers in the stalke cooking. When the rhubarb is very sour it is a good plan to pour boiling water over it and let stand five minutes, then drain and put in the boller.
